7. EVALUATION OF THE PROPOSALS FOR PROMOTION PROGRAMMES

Proposals that are submitted following the publication of the calls for proposals have to be firstly checked for their compliance with the admissibility, eligibility, exclusion and selection criteria set out in the annual work programme/call.

For the evaluation of proposals, experts are selected in a way to ensure a high level of skills, experience and knowledge in the areas of the call (including project management, marketing, communication, internationalisation and evaluation of results in relation to the agri-food sector) while ensuring absence of conflict of interest. Special attention is given to achieving a balanced composition in terms of skills, experience, knowledge, geographical diversity and gender.

The evaluation was made against the award criteria set out in the annual work programme/call.

Each proposal was evaluated against the award criteria, independently by (at least) 3 experts.

The experts prepared an individual evaluation report (IER) with comments and scores for each criterion.

For each proposal, the individual experts then formed a consensus group in order to reach a common view and agree on comments and scores (in a consensus report).

Finally, the panels are convened for each topic of the call to examine and compare the consensus reports to check the consistency of their scores and comments and — in case of equal scores — to agree on a priority order.

The ‘above-threshold proposals’ (i.e. proposals that passed both the individual and overall thresholds) are ranked by the experts in order of their overall score in their panel ranked list.

Based on the expert ranking and the budgetary constraints the Agency has drawn up call ranked lists.

The Agency did not deviate from the panel ranked list(s) nor did the Commission in case of selection of simple programme.

Section 2: Statistics and details on Commission’s own initiatives

1. HIGH LEVEL MISSION TO COLOMBIA AND MEXICO, 7-12 FEBRUARY 2016

High-level missions are part of a series of Economic Diplomacy activities envisaged to facilitate market access for European agri-food products. They typically include a political part dedicated to political meetings of the Commissioner and a business part with activities for business delegates representing European exporters.

Participants to the missions are recruited via calls for applications which are published for each high-level mission via different channels:

- official invitations to the European Parliament's Committee on Agriculture.
- the Member States and their Ministries of Agriculture.
- the major professional organisations.
- the Civil Dialogue Group on Quality and Promotion.
- DG AGRI website and social media.
- and since 2017 also via the EU Representations in the Member States; the National Promotion Bodies. and CHAFEA’s website.

The selection is based on several criteria particularly geographical balance among the Member States; sectorial balance taking into account the products potential for the target country market; balance between SMEs and bigger companies; national and European umbrella organisations.

42 business representatives (out of a 58 applications) from 14 Member States accompanied Commissioner Hogan in this mission.

7. EU Pavilion at SIAL Middle East, 12-14 December 2017

EU pavilion of 160 m<sup>2</sup> was organised at SIAL Middle East in Abu Dhabi, UAE on 12-14 December 2017. This activity belonged in a follow up to Commissioner's visit to Saudi Arabia and Iran and served a purpose of communicating about key characteristics of EU agri-food products to regional mainly business audience: sustainability, quality, diversity, safety, taste and traceability.

The EU pavilion had solely communication and informative function, with no explicit B2B element which was typically covered by EU Member States and private stands. EU companies and promotion programmes exhibiting at the fair.

Pavilion's activities featured permanent display of selected EU quality food and beverage products from most Member States, scheduled info session on EU food safety and quality policy coupled with tasting of samples made from EU food products by an acknowledged chef Donnchadh Geraghty from Ireland as well as a permanent info desk.

Food product categories exhibited at the pavilion included:

- Fruits, vegetables and nuts
- Meat: Beef and poultry
- Dairy and cheese
- Chocolates and confectionery
- Olive oil
- Preparations of cereals, flour, starch or milk
- Pastry processed products
- Food preparations for infant use.

The fair in general attracted relatively low number of visitors in 2017 and as a result it is estimated that EU pavilion was visited by approx. 520 visitors including 160 who participated in the cooking shows and info sessions.

EU pavilion at SIAL Middle East – evaluation highlights

- 69% of pavilion visitors interested in buying or consuming European products
- Quality was identified as the main driving element behind EU products' popularity (53%); 21% valued their taste and visual appeal.

8. SPS Seminar Korea, 20-21 March 2018

“EU Agri-Foods SPS Seminar” was organised in Four Seasons Hotel, Seoul, South Korea on 20-21 March 2018 as the first SPS Promotion Seminar under EU Promotion policy. SPS Promotion seminars respond to a need for dissemination of EU high safety and quality standards in third countries having highest export growth potential. This includes promoting key elements of the EU Common Agriculture Policy such as EU quality schemes for agricultural products. EU organic production or sustainable production systems for EU agri-food products including in particular EU ‘from farm to fork’ Sanitary and Phytosanitary (SPS) regime. Specifically for Korea, the Seminar aimed to capitalise on opportunities for agri-food products opened by the EU-Korea Free Trade Agreement.

Issues covered in presentations:

- Overview of EU food safety regulations
- Animal identification and traceability in the EU
- International standards for safe trade of animal products
- Food information to consumers in the EU
- EU policy on GIs and organics
- Challenges and opportunities on the Korean market
- The EU phytosanitary system (F&V) and the EU pesticides management system
- Regionalisation for plant diseases
- The EU management system for pesticides, residues and chemicals
- Enforcement of EU SPS legislation: controls, audits, inspections.

The seminar agenda included a Round Table "The Korean market. Food Safety and Quality standards: benefits and challenges". The aim of this round table was double: to wrap up and insist on the most important political aspects seen during the lectures (trade irritants with Korea) and to provide to stakeholders other than the Korean official services a chance to have a say. The core of the discussions consisted of identifying elements which may constitute challenges to EU exporters trying to enter the Korean market along with possible solutions. The Round Table was held facing the public and counted with speakers including EU MS trade attachés, EU exporter's representatives, Korean Importers Association, chambers of commerce, Wine and Spirit Importers Association, Fruits Importers Association, private companies, legal firms etc.

Attractive products display was another magnet for target audiences.

It provided a presentation of food and beverage products from majority of EU MS including products provided directly by MS representatives and their contacts in Korea featuring the following product categories:

- Beverages: mineral water, juice, wine and spirits;
- Confectionery and Chocolate
- Dairy and cheese;
- Fish (processed);
- Nuts and olives;
- Olive oil, balsamic vinegar, sauces and dips;
- Pastry cooked products: biscuits and waffles;
- Preparations of cereals.

The cooking show was a major attraction of the seminar and served as the right complement to the expert sessions. It featured presentations and serving of signature dishes prepared by resident chefs from Austria and Korea as well as hired chef from Italy and a celebrity Korean chef Jae-Hoon Lee. The show generated enormous interest as well as a suitable environment for B2B relations.

“EU Agri-Foods SPS Seminar” – evaluation highlights:

- 147 participants over 2 days
- >70% of participants had increased their overall knowledge on the European Union and EU food safety standards
- >50% of participants had increased their knowledge on EU quality policy on GIs, organics and safe EU exports to Korea
- <40% of participants had increased their knowledge of the EU’s plant health standards of the EU’s phytosanitary system and of the EU’s pesticides management system
- All participants had increased their knowledge of the EU’s GI products following the Seminar
- 64% found the quality of the speakers to be good, while 36% found it very good
- 91% of participants overall satisfied with the reception, cooking shows and product display

- 16 Korean media outlets covered the event
- 19 articles about the seminar published in Korean press and media
- 6 social media influencers and bloggers participated.

9. High Level Mission to China. 14-19 May 2018

High Level Mission to China featured events organised in Shanghai and its immediate neighbourhood as well as in Shenzhen. #### 10. EU pavilion at SIAL China, 16-18 May 2018

EU pavilion at SIAL China in Shanghai was organised on 16-18 May 2018 to coincide with Commissioner Hogan's high level mission to China with business delegation. A 168 m<sup>2</sup> pavilion was designed with an objective of communicating key characteristics of EU agricultural food and beverage products: food safety, tradition, nutritious value and traceability, with a special focus given to GI products on the occasion of ongoing negotiations of the EU-China GI agreement. The EU was also designated as Region of Honour of SIAL China 2018.

Animations and activities in the pavilion included:

- Official opening ceremony
- Product display
- Tasting area
- Cooking show & policy

- information sessions
- Infopoint
- Panel discussion session hosted by SIAL: “Geographical Indication labels – promising high quality and tradition”.

Tasting area was organised into tasting stations with the following product categories: meat, cheese, fruit and vegetables, beer, wine and confectionery. In total, 33 250 samples of quality EU food and beverage products were served during three days of the fair.

Member States contributed selected products both to the tasting stations as well as to product display while it was ensured that products from across the EU are equally represented.

The EU pavilion was envisaged to provide additional visibility for the EU at the fair under “Enjoy It’s from Europe” signature while indirectly representing Member States European companies and promotion programmes and reinforcing their status and messaging with the visiting business people and public.

Cooking shows were delivered by Michelin-star German chef operating in Shanghai, accompanied with a commentary by a local moderator and policy officer from the Commission explaining about safety and quality aspects of EU products used for the preparation of the dishes.

EU pavilion at SIAL China – evaluation highlights

- 12 cooking and information sessions
- 588 participants in total
- 88.5% participants satisfied
- 85% learned about EU added value for food safety, 71% about health quality of EU foods
- 81% interested in buying EU foods

Section 3: Details on technical support

1. Objectives and target audience

Technical support services are part of the measures on the initiative of the Commission foreseen by the reformed promotion of agricultural products policy. The objectives of these services are defined in the Regulation (EU) No1144/2014, Article 9:

"2. The Commission shall develop technical support services, in particular with a view to:

- (a) encouraging awareness of different markets, including by means of exploratory business meetings;
- (b) maintaining a dynamic professional network around information and promotion policy, including providing advice to the sector with regard to the threat of imitation and counterfeit products in third countries; and
- (c) improving knowledge of Union rules concerning programme development and implementation."

Subsequently, Chafea and European Commission developed the services presented below targeting the following audiences:

- 1. National and/or European organisations of producers representing different agricultural product sectors (e.g. dairy, meat, fruit and vegetables, wine etc.)
- 2. SMEs exporting within the EU and to third countries
- 3. National authorities (such as ministries of agriculture and paying agencies)
- 4. Organisations providing support for internationalisation of SMEs

2. EU agri-food promotion portal

Based on the input from the stakeholders, the portal was created available at the following web address: <https://ec.europa.eu/chafea/agri/>. It includes market information, information concerning the available funding opportunities, news and events as well as tools supporting the potential applicants for EU funding in their proposal preparation as well as assisting exporters in their export activity. The portal contains an interactive map with information concerning all adopted programmes since 2014 including target markets and budget information.

Information regarding the portal statistics can be found in the technical support services section of the report.

Please find below examples of the specific tools offered as part of the portal:

Market entry handbooks

Market entry handbooks constitute a tailor-made analysis of the third country markets with identified opportunities for the EU agri-food products. The countries covered by the reports correspond to those where business delegations visits were organised as well as to the priority countries identified each year in the Annual Work Programme. Examples can be found below. There are currently eight market entry handbooks available on the portal with six additional in the preparation.

Highlights:

- tailor-made proprietary market reports.
- export opportunities identified per sector.
- advice on the market entry conditions, distribution channels and marketing channels.
- cultural aspects including the DOs and DON'Ts.
- part of the briefing of the business delegation.

Find partners tool

In order to facilitate contacts between different organisations eligible for funding as well as stimulate applications for the MULTI call, a specific tool was developed on the portal. It gives the applicants the opportunity to fill in their organisation's profile and define parameters of the desired profile of the partner organisation.

Highlights:

- tool tailored to the specificities of the promotion policy.
- facilitates contacts between organisations from different regions and Member States.

Eligibility checker

This tool was created in order to help the applicants navigate through the eligibility criteria and ultimately reduce the number of ineligible proposals.

Campaign visual creator

Another area which is problematic for the applicants and beneficiaries of the EU funding concerns the rules on visuals. It is however very important that the rules are being adhered to. This tool, as well as other documents available on the portal, allow the applicants and beneficiaries upload their visual and make a simulation how their marketing material may look like, which is at the same time visually appealing and following the rules in place.

Frequently Asked Questions

As a complement to call documents, such as the call texts, guide for applicants and helpdesk, a series of Frequently Asked Questions was developed. It is updated every year and includes weekly updates during the call submission period. It is searchable which facilitates its use.

Interactive map of EU-funded campaigns

Interactive map serves as the repository of all campaigns adopted since 2014 and allows for the search by different parameters. e.g. proposing country, target country, product sector. It provides links to the actual campaign websites and increases the transparency by featuring the campaign budget, including the share of the EU funding.

Webinars

In order to improve the quality of the proposals, each year the weak areas are identified and complemented by the applicants' feedback. Based on this information, tailor-made webinars are organised together with the experts in the field. The target audience constitutes of the potential applicants for EU funding as well as the EU exporters in general.

There are currently six webinars available on the portal and further four in preparation. Examples of the webinars can be found below. Statistics can be found in the part of the report dedicated to technical services.

3. Events

Info days

Info days on calls for proposals are organised every year following the publication of the calls for proposals. They include presentations of the calls as well as statistics of previous calls, information concerning the eligibility and support tools available. They also feature presentations of the EU-funded programmes by the beneficiaries in order to share best practices. One general info day takes place in Brussels.

The objective is to increase awareness of the funding opportunities as well as to increase the knowledge of the rules applicable to the calls for proposals.

In collaboration with the Member States, Chafea and European Commission participate in the national info days where possible attended by a native speaker.

Statistics can be found in the technical support services part of the report.

Highlights:

- relevant audience (agri-food stakeholders);
- more in-depth information concerning the calls;
- opportunity to ask questions;
- web streaming for higher outreach;
- examples of best practices.

Presentations of EU funding opportunities and match-making

In 2018, Chafea and European Commission organised for the first time the presentation of the EU-funding and the match-making event during one of the biggest European food trade fairs – SIAL in Paris on 23 October.

The exact registration figures were not yet known at the time of writing this report.

Highlights:

- organising the event at the place where over 7000 agri-food exhibitors and over 15000 visitors can be found;
- opportunity to enlarge the audience;
- opportunity to increase the number of new applicants.

4. Information and promotion campaigns

In order to increase the awareness of the available funding opportunities under the promotion policy as well as enlarge the pool of "new" applicants, Chafea and European Commission organised a direct mailing campaign sent out to a thousand potential applicants. As a secondary objective, the campaign was aiming to raise awareness of the support tools available to the potential applicants and exporters.

The open rate varied between 20 and 35% which is considered a good result for the direct marketing campaign.

Examples of visuals can be found below.
