France	Law on dangerous dogs 1999-5 Law n° 2008-582 2008	The breed specific legislation has two categories. Imports are banned of Staffordshire terrier, american staffordshire terrier, mastiff, Tosa. Imports can be allowed of Staffordshire terrier, Rottweiler if they meet stringent criteria.	None undertaken
Hungary	No 35/1197 (II 26) Law on the keeping and licensing of dangerous dogs and dogs identified as dangerous.	Legislation bans the pit bull terrier as a dangerous dog and all mixed breeds that have PBT blood in them: all must be neutered and it is prohibited to breed, import, export, advertise or train as a guard dog. Any dog that attacks another may be categorised as a dangerous dog	None undertaken
Italy	Ordinanza per la tutela dell'incolumità pubblica	The new law, will delete the current list of 17 breeds which are considered potentially dangerous,	A political review of the legislation was undertaken in 2008/9 and concluded that the

	dall'aggressione dei cani April 2009 overturns the 2003 decree on dangerous dogs which had restrictions on some 92 breeds.	including Rottweilers, pit bull terriers, bull mastiffs and American bulldogs. Owners of dog breeds which are considered dangerous by the local commune must get a license stating that the dog has an owner that is considered capable of handling it. Vets must keep a list of these dogs and their owners. The owners must get obligatory third party public liability insurance for their dogs and keep them muzzled.	2003 Decree should be amended to overturn the language on breeds of dogs
